

Dana Sheppard
Deputy Commissioner for Market Operations
District of Columbia Department of Insurance, Securities and Banking (DISB)

Mr. Sheppard is currently the Deputy Commissioner for Market Operations for the District of Columbia Department of Insurance, Securities and Banking. Mr. Sheppard oversees the Risk Finance and Securities Bureaus, the Office of Financial Education and Empowerment, the Office of Innovation, the department's policy advisor, and hearing officer.

Mr. Sheppard received a B.S. in Accounting from Bowie State University, a J.D. degree from the University of Texas School of Law, and a LL.M degree, with distinction, in Securities and Financial Regulation from the Georgetown University Law Center. Mr. Sheppard earned a Certificate, Fintech Revolution: Transformative Financial Services and Strategies from The Wharton School, University of Pennsylvania.